Farmers' Market Planned for Winter Carnival Weekend

COOPERSTOWN – Back by popular demand, the Cooperstown Farmers' Market vendors will set up shop once again in Pioneer Alley, as part of the Cooperstown Winter Carnival 2007 festivities. Though the market is officially in hiatus, Market Manager Jen Hanson expects it will be a full house on Saturday, February 10.

"Just about everyone plans to be there," said Hanson, including both regular and seasonal vendors.

The "Dog Days of Winter" carnival market will run from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., during which time kids 12 and under are invited to participate in The Frosty Coloring Contest. The top 16 decorated snowmen will be made into a "quilt," to be displayed at the Chocolate Lover's Festival beginning in the farmers' market building at 3 p.m. Limited decorating supplies will be provided, and youngsters are invited to bring their own materials.

There will be a minimal fee to enter the Chocolate Lover's Festival, where visitors will sample homemade chocolate goodies. Following the tasting portion of the event, cash prizes will be awarded to first-place finishers in a number of mouth-watering categories. For more information and details on entering this popular annual competition, call 293-7349.

Cooperstown Farmers' Market regulars can look forward to the quality produce and items they have come to expect, among them maple syrup, home-baked sweets and treats, seasonal fruits and vegetables, fresh fowl and meats, and flowers and greenery, as well as handmade crafts and homemade soaps. Those browsing the market and attending the Chocolate Lover's Festival can do so in comfort, thanks to the recent installation of five overhead radiant infrared propane gas heaters.

The Cooperstown Farmers' Market is sponsored by Otsego 2000 and operates each Saturday, rain or shine, May through December. The market is located just off Main Street, in Pioneer Alley – for more information, visit www.otsego2000.org/farmersmarket/ or call 547-6195.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: December 1, 2006

Market Kicks Into High Gear for Holidays

COOPERSTOWN – The final two Holiday Markets of the 2006 season will be fun-filled and festive for both Cooperstown Farmers' Market vendors and shoppers.

On Saturday, December 9, the Stoddard Hollow String Band (Milford's own Marvin Zachow, and friends) will take the market stage. Self-described as "old" but still kickin', this popular trio plays old-time banjo and fiddle music. Market regulars can look forward to the quality produce and items they have come to expect, among them maple syrup, home-baked sweets and treats, seasonal fruits and vegetables, fresh fowl and meats, and flowers and greenery, as well as handmade crafts and homemade soaps. The market's year-round vendors will be joined by a number of new additions, exclusive to the Holiday Markets.

The market finale, a Christmas Party and End-of-Season Celebration, is set for Saturday, December 16. Skip West will perform, Santa will be on hand from 10 a.m. to noon, and punch and cookies will be served. West will play children's songs as well as traditional and original "rocka- folkabilly" tunes in the American folk tradition. This kid-friendly event will also feature a craft station, where children can create holiday cards with paper, glue and all sorts of decorative doodads.

Those browsing the Holiday Markets this year can do so in comfort, thanks to the recent installation of five overhead radiant infrared propane gas heaters.
